Daejeon Metropolitan City

A City of Science, Technology and Economy

Daejeon has improved the R&D capacity of Daedeok Innopolis by investing over 3 billion dollars over the last 35 years. Not only is Daejeon creating jobs and reviving its economy by attracting and cultivating cutting-edge firms, but it is initiating a new growth engine to lead the future of Daejeon's economy.

Green city

Daejeon has been pursuing a green growth initiative since 2006, based on its beautiful natural environment, its three rivers, its cutting-edge science and technological infrastructure and its excellent transportation system. Such major green policies as the thirty-million-tree planting(part of Daejeon's national contribution to the UNEP-led seven-billion-tree planting campaign), the restoration of its three rivers, and its leadership as a bicycle-friendly city, are taking deep root as a new and sustainable green growth model.

Korea's transportation Hub

With a transportation network consisting of five expressways, four national highways, and three railways covering 1,693km, Daejeon is easily accessible to all cities in the nation within two hours. Geographically located in the heart of the main cities of Northeast Asia, including Tokyo, Beijing and Shanghai, Daejeon is a gateway to Northeast Asia and is easily accessible to about 50 major cities within four hours.
